THE LOG
OF
The Good Ship Stratford's
1948 VOYAGE

All Hail the Ship

The moon has set, the stars grow pale,
The buoyant winds ride free;
A ship that fears nor calm nor gale
Pulls for the open sea.

Her mast is white, her spars are blue,
Her ropes with iris twined.
As gray dawn rises purled with dew,
The land fades far behind.

The crew shouts loud when the ship leaves shore,
Her spreading sails like wings;
To sweep them on "Excelsior"
Now in their glad heart rings.

Day breaks; the sky is bright and fair;
Their joy swells into song;
It bursts upon the vibrant air
And speeds the ship along.

We seek true fame through work and love;
We fear not toil nor pain;
Endurance, power, and worth we'll prove
A queenly crown to gain.

All hail the ship! All hail the crew!
That dares the storms defy;
We are the crew; the ship is you,
O Stratford riding high!

—HAZEL RUSSELL

Sailing Papers . . .

*"The moon has set, the stars grow pale,
The buoyant winds ride free;
A ship that fears nor calm nor gale
Pulls for the open sea."*

Here begins the account of Good Ship Stratford's 1947-1948 voyage as recorded in her log, THE IRIS. The success of a sea voyage lies not alone in the integrity, valor, and skill of officers and crew. It goes back to the beginning of the ship's history, the laying of the keel, the making of the craft strong and seaworthy.

Fortunate are we young mariners who sail aboard The Stratford, for she has stood the test of storm and gale, ever proving herself seaworthy. With wisdom, foresight, love, and vision was Stratford's keel laid straight and strong.

Our fair vessel sets forth, her banner spreading on the breeze her "Ad astra per aspera," the blue depths of waves white-crested bearing her colors about her.

The North Star . . .

*When the Good Ship Stratford was in the making,
your steady hand guided in laying her keel straight,
making her hull seaworthy. Yours were the eyes that,
peering through cloud and squall, charted her course over a restless sea. In times of difficulty, as well as in smooth sailing, you have ably served before the mast. All this we know and value, but there is something greater still.*

*Mariners, through countless centuries and forgotten civilizations, have looked to the stars for beauty, for spiritual inspiration, and for guidance. For these things have Stratford's young mariners looked unerringly to a star by which they have set their course and by whose light
they have followed it.*

*To you, our guiding star, Miss Kennedy, the crew
of 1947-1948, dedicate this their log.*

The Log . . .

Just as the helmsmen guide and manage the ship's affairs so have we, the staff, kept the log of the Good Ship Stratford. All ships must travel through rough waters and stormy seas, so many of our hours have been overshadowed with the approach of menacing clouds. Despite the truth of these forecasts we have found happiness in the hours spent in the keeping of this log. Our job has really been an enviable one. Many times have we escaped study hall to come and sit before a pleasant fire in Miss Fitz's studio. Sometimes we have cringed at the thought of taking one more picture or writing one more page, but we have now experienced the glorious sense of exaltation in the deed accomplished, of coming finally into port with our flags flying.

Forty Eight

*"Through the sharp air a flaky torrent flies,
Mocks the slow sight, and hides the gloomy skies;
The fleecy clouds their chilly bosoms bare,
And shed their substance on the floating air."*

The Iris

*"Lo, sifted through the winds that blow,
Down comes the soft and silent snow,
White petals from the flowers that grow
In the cold atmosphere."*

Forty Eight

*"I shall be a garden charmed from changing,
In which your June shall never pass away;
Walk there a while among my memories."*

The Grier

*"The winds will whisper to the trees a haunting melody,
And to the campus hills will go a Stratford memory."*

Sophomore Class History

'Twas in the fall of forty-six
We Freshmen came anew
To view dear Stratford's campus green
And our studies to pursue.

Our president was Martha Clark,
Vice pres was Martha T;
Our treasurer was Wacky and
Our secretary Alice G.

Our sponsor was Miss Odom, yes,
Philosopher, friend and guide;
She helped us in so many ways
Our thanks are justified.

Rat week found us loaded down
With cigarettes, food, and books
To keep the old girls well supplied.
(Let's not mention our looks.)

October Day soon rolled around;
Three bells gave us the clue;
There on the field were Rags and Wat,
Wilhelm was goalie, too.

The compensation for Rat Week
Was peanut week at last;
The old girls gave us goodies, and
They made up for the past.

Alice Garrett played Katrin
In "I Remember Mama."
This fall play was a great success
With Wilkinson, Clark, and Trotter.

At last we greeted Founders' Day;
Jan Lewis gave a toast;
We Freshmen made the nut cups, and
The guests were all engrossed.

With Rountree, Moughon, and Marie
The belles from Birmingham,
The Stratford Traveller rose to fame
And made a quick grand slam.

With Christmas came "Nativity"
Claiming Peyton and Claire;
Our Freshman acolyte was Keyes;
Alice Marie was Love so fair.

The Blazer Club announced its members
Just before vacation,
Based on the five points of the star,
This called for celebration.

Another Christmas came our way;
We packed our bags each one,
And to the terminal we fled,
The "redcaps" were outdone.

With Christmas gone, the New Year here
It was back to school we came;
Joan LeBof and Billie Caminer
New classmates we did claim.

Iris Carnival time drew near;
With Freshman work unceasing—
To make the spook show a success—
Funds for IRIS were increasing.

Then came our Freshman minstrel show,
Successful so they say;
Here's thanks to director Bettie Bollman
For uniting us that way.

Nine Freshmen took the spotlight
When Blue Pencil took them in,
Named at the Traveller Banquet
As masters of the pen.

The fashion show brought forth eight more
As models for the night;
Beautiful clothes, beautiful girls,
It was a memorable sight.

Posters adorned most every hall
Announcing library week;
The chapel program was a skit
Dot Schwab's part was unique.

Stratford's election time approached
Making H. L. highest vote
Student Council president
For forty-seven—forty-eight.

May Day brought forth "Birthday Dreams"
Introducing Mother Goose;
Virginia Loe was Little Miss Muffet,
Billie Caminer, the spider "aloose."

B. O. Bollman an honor won
As biology assistant here,
A scholarship given by our own Rick,
For Bettie the coming year.

Our Freshman year drew to a close
With one more fond farewell,
A banquet for the Sophomores
Who in our hearts will dwell.

Summer came and all too soon
We parted from our friends;
We all longed for fall's return
When we would meet again.

The time was here, the day was nigh
Old friends again we'd greet;
A certain group did orient
New students through the week.

Vice president was Sophie B.,
She helped H. L. to rule;
Watson and Joyce Engelmann
All helped to govern school.

Gene Jones was our new class pres;
Martha Towler was beside,
With Romayne, Betty May and Meg
She did her best to guide.

Class colors found were purple and white,
Flower, the whitest rose;
"Our strength doth lie in unity"
Was the motto that we chose.

The sponsor for the coming year
Was Mrs. Charles Waddell,
Who ably served our every need;
She has no parallel.

Meg, Norvell, Ellen Burr and Lynn
New students joined the group;
And Bootie returned again to make
An arc in the Sophomore loop.

Wacky was head of Blazer Club,
Jane of the I. R. C.
Spanish Club pres was Lisbe M.
With Dot Schwab as secretary.

Mary Shand was a poetic gal,
Poetry Club head was she;
While Jean Brough kept the school Glee Club
Singing merrily.

Romayne Butler and Betty May
Arranged the table list;
While hostesses tried to keep account
Of the meals that were missed.

A joyful event was October Day;
Watson our Queen became;
We achieved our fame with banner and song
And played in the hockey game.

"Joan of Lorraine" was the autumn play,
And Alice Marie was Joan;
On Frances, Joyce, and Bootie H.
The footlights proudly shone.

Founders' Day Banquet used "Time" as theme
With toastmistress Peyton Handy;
She did a swell job of the task;
We thought she was just dandy.

Check-Inn brought thoughts of Peggy A.
Who worked with much good will,
Selling food and making money
To pay for the IRIS bill.

Sophie was the Christmas Card Girl,
The holiday season queen.
Janet Lewis was the lovely Madonna,
Angelic and serene.

On piano Emily showed her skill
This won her recognition;
While Jean Tucker spent her time
On magazine subscriptions.

The dances all were huge successes;
Shirley was our leader.
B. O. was president of the dramatics,
Delta Psi Omega.

In art Anne Bailey did excel;
Pat Bouker did decorations;
While M. K. Jones edited Traveller
And helped it win citations.

Mallie Moughon reigned as queen
Of the Valentine Sweetheart Ball;
Katharine Rhett held a place in the court
Their charm appealed to all.

Estill Eskew did her part
In directing the Sophomore Show;
And Betty Lane with her quick, "yes, yes,"
Made the audience glow.

Mary Joy as the gypsy girl
Caused the people to stare;
While Ellen Burr as Mama Cook
Stole the show, we do declare.

Carolyn Walter and Norvell Jones
To the Red Cross gave much aid;
And with them came Ann Eggleston
Leading the IRIS ad brigade.

Cornelia Wellman, salutatorian
Was our "A" student you know;
And other day students Colleen and Betty
Helped keep their club on the go.

The Traveller Banquet's comic strips
Adorned the dining hall;
Toasts by Anne, Billie, and Claire
Were applauded by all.

Wilkinson, Claire, and Frances E.
In "Lady Windermere's Fan,"
Brought a cheer from everyone
And their careers began.

With Martha Towler as our queen
May Day seemed a dream;
The dances were a lovely sight
For Olympia was the theme.

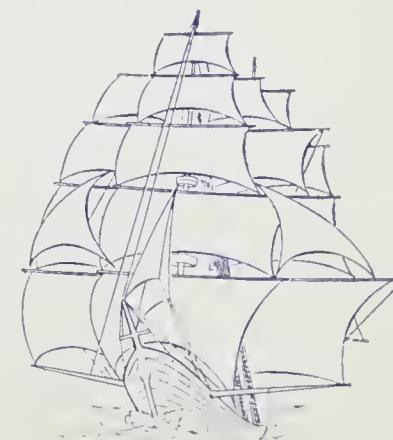

As graduation draws to close
And we Sophomores all depart,
We'll carry with us cherished hours
And thoughts within our hearts.

While memories of Stratford C.
Will linger when we're away,
The echoes of our college years
Will bring us back some day.

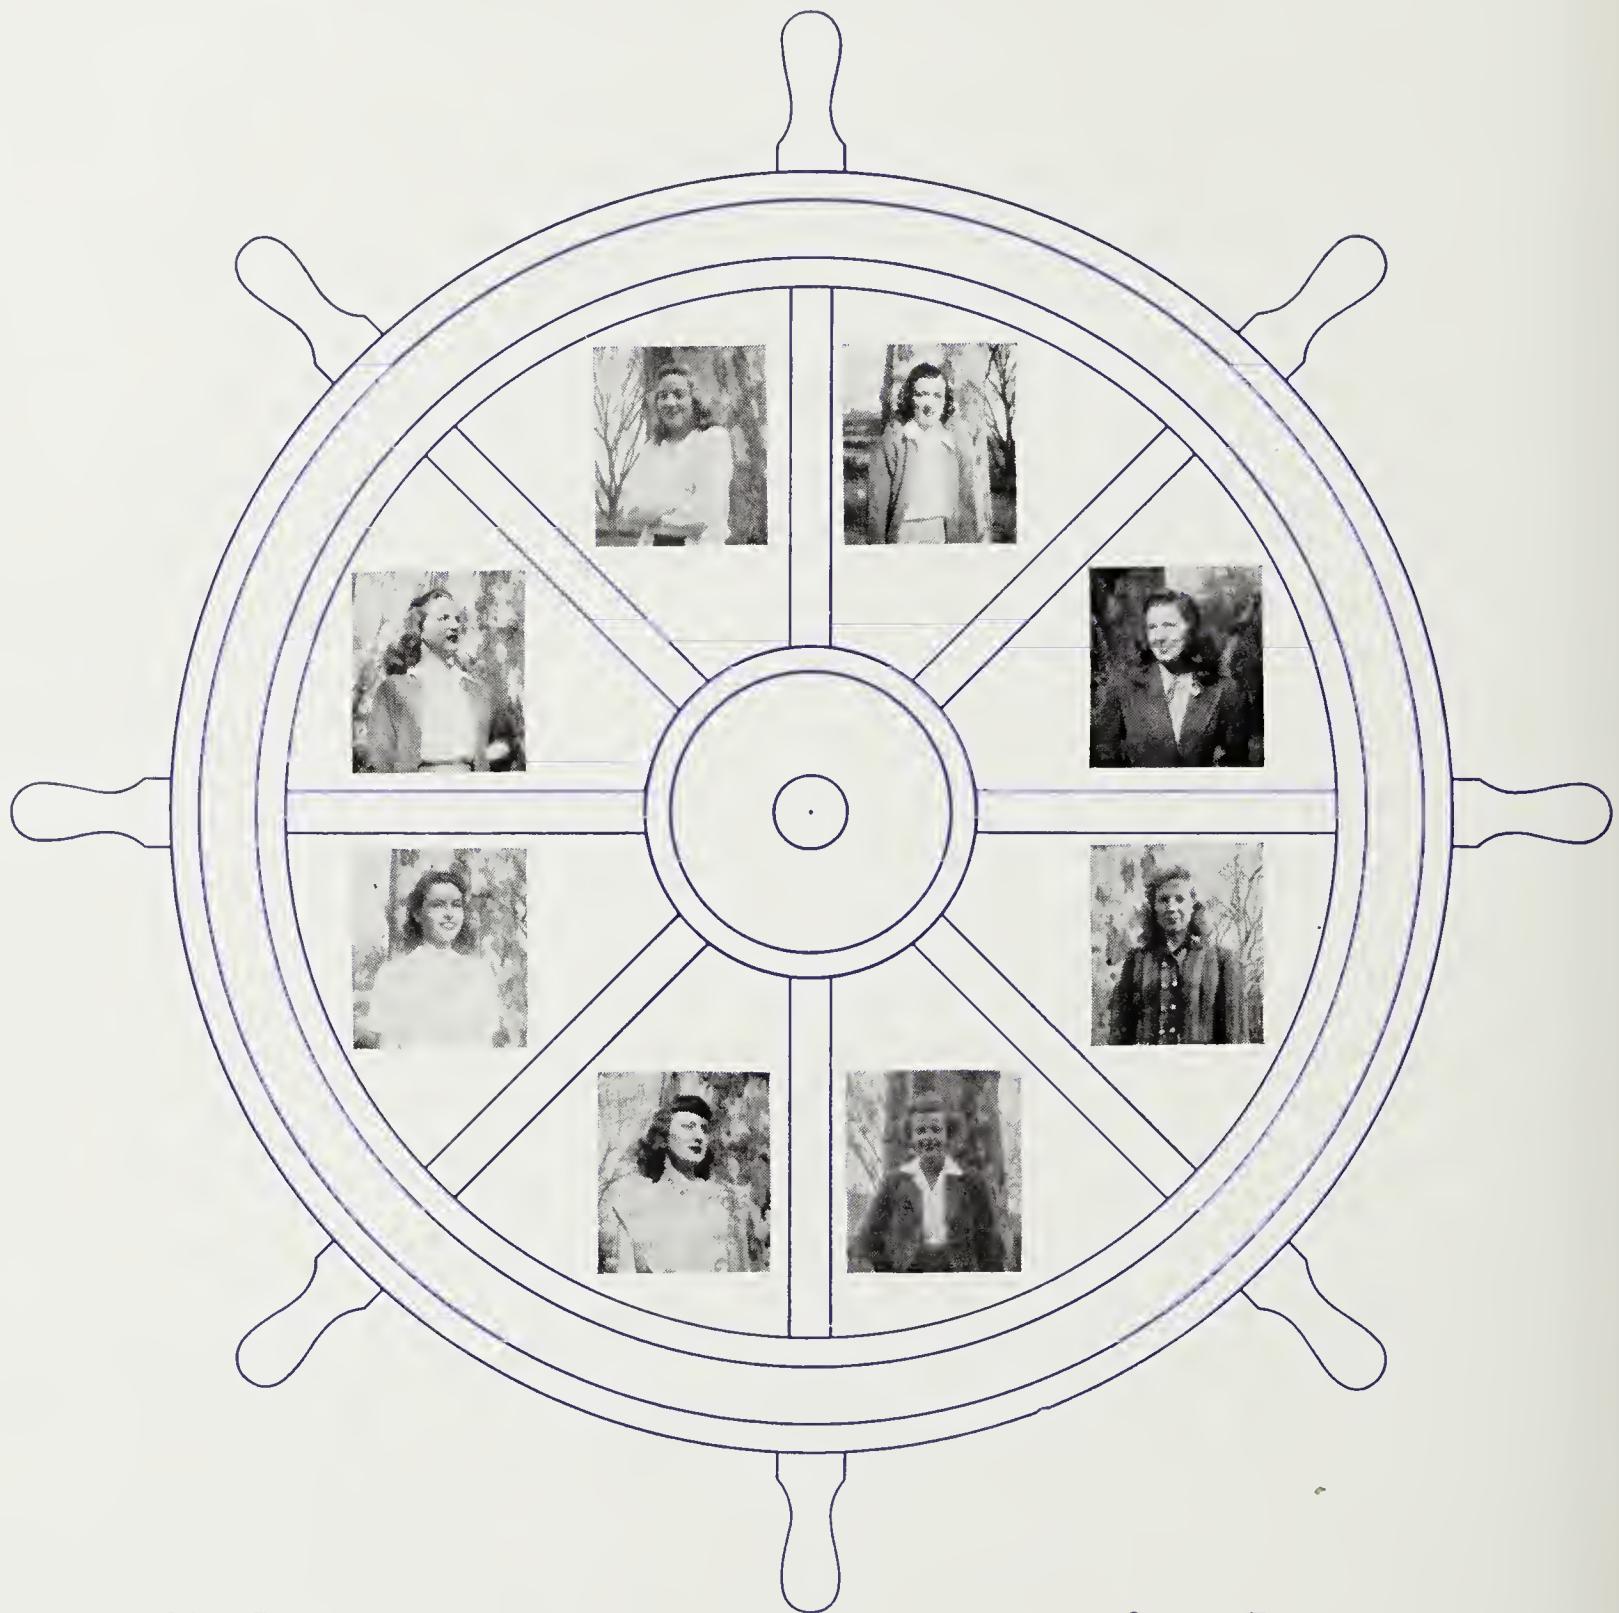

The ivy walls will hold so dear
The moments we have known;
May you who follow after us
Please keep our Stratford strong!

Sophomore Class Will

As years roll on to closing time,
And June is drawing near,
Remembrance of entrance into these halls,
Return as memories dear.

We'll not forget the days spent here.
The studies and the play;
The laughing joys of college life;
Our years seem but a day.

We'll miss you all as we go on,
To another world somewhere.
But first we'll leave a little bit,
Of what we have to share.

To Freshmen all, we leave our love,
You've been a vital part
Of golden days, and you have helped
Put Stratford in our heart.

To Captain John we all do leave,
Our sincere appreciation
For tales he's told; for ideals sold
That gained our admiration.

Oh yes, Miss K., you get our thanks,
For our new-found concentration.
We leave dear Beowulf with our hopes,
Next year your work you'll ration.

And Miss Fitz, we leave for you,
Results of inspiration.
Thanks for the rules that you helped change
For fun and recreation.

To Mama Cook, we leave our rooms,
With hopes they may be clean,
So when you start your checking round,
No dust will dare be seen.

And to our sponsor, Mrs. Waddell,
Our hopes for the best of health,
And all our thanks for helping us
To gain an unseen wealth.

H. L. leaves her worn-out gavel
To one who takes her place,
With hopes that she, too, can survive,
Giving call-downs with straight face,

Watson leaves her hockey stick
To Cricket with a grin,
In hopes that it may help a lot
To keep the balls from getting in.

M. J. leaves that slow, slow drawl,
For Do-Do to translate,
While Shirley leaves to Dotty P.
Her favorite Danville date.

And Wacky leaves that roaring laugh,
For Connie to carry on,
That you may hear that pleasant sound
After Sophomores all are gone.

The Traveller, too, with all the work,
Of deeds you have to bear,
M. K. and Billie leave to Joan
And Kitty all their share.

Lynn Frank leaves her golden watch
To the pawn shop down in town,
And Peggy A. a deck of cards
For McDade to carry round.

Peyton and Bettie leave this book,
For one with lots of time,
In hopes that someone else can work
On pictures and on rhyme.

Anne Rountree leaves to Janet S.
Her prized Confederate flag,

With trust her knowledge of the South
Will never, never lag.

Dottie Schwab would like to leave
Her frequent trips to Atlanta
To Nancy Starr, who'd also like
Getting "Warrens" from good old Santa.

And the moonface and starry-eyes,
Go to Vickie H. from Rhett.
Meg Strom bequeaths her train success
With Duke boys she has met.

Bootie leaves her "Little Willie,"
For Titine to learn with "Shine,"
And to Patricia goes Macbeth—
Poor Shakespeare will resign!

Marie has quite a lot to leave
When she goes on from here.
She leaves her Student Council love
To Ann Cullom for next year.

Mallie leaves her Virginia success
To Lucy A. when she is gone.
She's got something we all would like
To have to carry on.

Sophie, hissing like a snake,
Wills hours checking halls,
And all the time from study
Spent on those long-distance calls.

The duties of the Art Studio,
Now can be left by Joyce,
With all the vases that she drew
Dolores is her choice.

Jean Brough wills to Peggy C.
Her oh, so sweet, sweet voice,
While Bailey leaves her baby-talk
To be used next year by Joyce.

'Course Martha T. our beauty queen,
Bequeaths her countenance fair.
She leaves this natural gift of hers
For Marilyn Fink to wear.

The parlor dates on Sunday nights,
Are left by Gene, our Pres..
To go to lucky Mildred Brown—
(Read what the handbook sez!)

To Sandy from unselfish Jane,
Go "Gravel Gertie" tresses,
While Egg will leave to Alice A.,
Those "Vogue" looking dresses.

As Tucker is a Birmingham belle,
She leaves her famous hop
To "Yankee-doodle" Tecky West,
For it really is on top!

Romayne in parting wants to leave
To her little sis, Mary Lou,
Her ever-winning "toothpaste smile,"
That comes to very few.

"From one stage-star to another,"
Or to Barbara from Alice Marie—
Goes rare dramatic ability.
Their names in lights we'll see.

Janet Lewis's musical talent
Of course must be passed on.
This gift to Freshman Schuler goes,
With practice from dawn to dawn.

Another musical gal have we,
In the person of Emily A..
Who leaves this gift to Emerson,
To carry on when she's away,

Estill leaves her gift of gab,
To be learned by Betty Wood,
Ellen leaves her books to Ruth,
To study as she should.

A sweet, sweet smile from Mary Shand,
Passes on to Bunny B.
While many happy knitting hours,
From Carolyn go to Sophie.

Claire's mascaraed glamour lashes,
And brown persuasive eyes,
Are left to love-lorn Moagy,
With many winks and sighs.

From Betty Lane, another Soph.,
Go puns, and sparkling wit,
For Shirley Strickland with the hope
That she'll calm down a bit.

V. A. leaves her dancing class,
To Mimi this does go,
To pass on to another soon,
For both can steal the show.

Lisbe, our little Presbyter,
Leaves all her frequent trips,
To Joan K. with much hope
She won't make many slips.

Patty Bouker leaves her sewing,
And many a ripped-out seam,
To go to Prissy Gerlach,
Now won't that be a team!

Frances Erler would like to leave
Her strapless evening gown,
For another Freshman, Hubbard, to wear,
She'll really get around!

Norvell Jones leaves to Maggie,
Her disposition so sweet,
And Wilkinson leaves to Dee Hamrick,
Her toy guitar to beat.

From Colleen to the Sanders twins,
Goes the knack to hunt and peck.
Cornelia gives her noted brains
To Berlincke, we suspect.

The old well-beaten path
To Stratford's own front door,
Passes on from Betty Shumate—
She won't need it anymore.

To Miss Bessie, we leave hope sincere,
That her egg may soon be found,
And also, that her children won't
Be chickens speckled brown!

My own "self-made" confusion
Should go to Jackie S.
To be carried on next year,
With hopes for her success.

Now for my confession,
Alas! It must be made;
No Rabbit—no class will!
My nerves were nearly frayed!

And now that this year's ended,
And our Sophomore will is done,
We leave our hopes and dreams,
To go to everyone.

We leave to all our memories of
The bridge, the lane, the hill;
This ends our years at Stratford,
So now I'll sign the will.

Sophomore Class Prophecy

Reportcr, listen and stop eating candy,
Go and get me this interview
With the popular lawyer, I. M. Sodandy,
Residing on Central Park Avenue.

He is connected with Stratford College,
The glamour school renowned in the States,
The Alma Mater of wisdom and knowledge
That turns out brainy graduates.

I left in a hurry to cover the beat,
And went to the court of the juveniles.
As the judge had left for his country seat,
I thought I might just as well peep through his files.

The aets were revealing a rare sensation
Containing case histories up to date.
A well of clues and good information
On the Sophomore Class of '48.

Now I know how Sodandy's reputation
Grew, and all over the country spread.
It was due to Stratford's cooperation;
Now I bring you the scandal I read:

Cornelia Wellman paid shortly a fine
For owning an undue amount of brain.
So did Meg Strom for her tricky line,
Of picking up friends on the south-bound train.

Mary Joy received a ticket for speeding;
Lynn Frank hit three people in her new Chevrolet.
While Rountree is still with authorities pleading,
To permit the "Birmingham Hop" on Broadway.

Watson is serving a long prison term,
For killing Dot Schwab in a hockey game.
And B. O. is suing the Lifebuoy firm,
For endorsing their soap with her name.

Betty Shumate's handwriting, tiny and small,
Proved of great value in counterfeiting.
Carolyn Walter blew up the chemistry hall,
And returned to her cooking and knitting.

Nancy and Janey were found by the crew,
As stowaways on a boat bound for China,
To reform the Far East was Mary's aim, too,
But she can't get away from South Carolina.

Claire was the cause of a serious fight
Between Annapolis and Army's West Point,
While Frances Erler and Peggy each night,
Play bridge in a roadside gambling joint.

Under "Missing and Lost" I found H. L.'s hound,
She had loved poor "Spooky" to death,
While Estill now talks without making a sound—
Since she lately ran out of breath.

Lisbe and Betty Lane lost their seals
When trying to convert the fierce cannibal;
Martha Towler got lost in the Salzburger Alps,
Where she studied Cicero and Hannibal.

Katharine Rhett is minus her always loose mouth
Which she lost in a Wilmington suburb,
Jean Tucker is missing her drawl from the South,
Shirley Timmer her "Do not disturb."

Mallie Moughon is out of jail on probation,
She couldn't pay her huge telephone bill.
Her cell meanwhile undergoes renovation
By Joyce and Romayne—what talent and skill!

For fifteen years without interference
Slept Bootie, who took to her bed with a cheer.
Pat Bouker was sentenced for sloppy appearance;
This spoiled her fashion-designing career.

Janet Lewis plays "Swing" in a Vaudeville show,
With Emily, sweet and oriental.
To their music dances Virginia Loe—
Neither records proved detrimental.

M. K. was involved in some libel suits
For naming Sophie a "poisonous snake."
But she claimed she was faultless and attributes
The misprint to Pickeral's typing mistake.

Jean Brough is in debt right up to her neck,
She gave all she had to those in need.
And Norvell Jones had signed a rubber cheque,
To purchase a cat that was pedigreed.

Under "casualties" was Gene with a broken heart,
"Twas lost on the Carolina bus one night.
A horse-opera gave Alice Marie her start,
Now in Hollywood she's the brightest light.

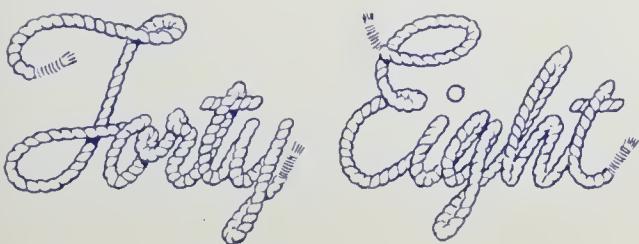

The seamstress, Marie Moody, complained
Her hand got caught in a sewing-machine.
Ann Bailey reported her tongue was strained,
She forgot to oil it with vaseline.

Egg turned a scholar—but is working for dough,
Getting quality points for her friend, Betty May.
Twice a month she visits Stratford—three days in a row,
So Betty will get her diploma some day.

So I went through the files of I. M. Sodandy,
Heartbroken at what I there saw,
Till suddenly the voice of Judge Peyton Handy
Said: "Hey, you are violating the law."

That's how I was caught for "unauthorized peeping,"
Those files were top-secret, but how could I know?
And if for additional details you're seeking
Ask first for permission from the crime bureau.

Senior Class History

The sea was still—the skies were clear,
September the twelfth, the day was here.
Stratford's decks were all scrubbed white,
And for all us gals 'twas a welcome sight.

As green recruits we meekly came,
Not knowing a face nor a single name,
As trunks were emptied and rooms arranged,
Friendships grew while fun was exchanged.

For the Captain of our merry crew,
Alice Wilson is the gal we drew,
With Phyllis Coggins for her mate
Things soon took on a look, ship-shape.

Treasurer and Secretary were next in honor
Given to Ellie and Marianne Farmer.
Magazine chairman, Jean Hinnant became,
While Bobbie carried our banner to fame.

Pink Camellias were elected our flowers
And silver and pink colors were chosen as ours.
"Thus do we reach the stars" we selected
For our motto to be reflected.

Nicki and Jo Roberts did write our song,
All thanks for this deed to them belong;
With this our class was organized
A class its members idolized.

So as September days rolled by
To October Day we turned our eye.
And in a color race that day
Roz Brown did make a grand display.

Fall Planting Day was next in line,
On this task our crew did fine.
Later as Christmas rolled around
We made the walls with carols resound.

The Christmas Dance was in gala sport
With Babs and Janie in our proud court,
With Children's and Servants' parties here
We have memories that will ever be dear.

With Christmas and exams over and past
The Iris Carnival came at last
And Barbara Current was chosen right
To reign on the joyous Carnival night.

The Blazer Club was all a frown
Until they chose Rosalyn Brown,
Bob and Roz were actors from birth
So they joined "Stratford Players" to add to our mirth.

The Sophomores gave a fashion show,
Babs, Janie, Bren did kindle the glow,
Our spring tea was then presented
And we feel our guests left contented.

May Day came and filled each heart
With Barbara Current in a leading part,
And many others of our merry clan
Were there to make the occasion grand.

"The Sea of Life" was our banquet theme
And numerous toasts completed the dream.
Our Marshals led the seniors way.
To close the year with their Class Day.

Another September Day was here,
As we all rushed back with a rallying cheer.
Within our midst new faces appeared
Which soon to our class became endeared.

A new floor was added to Stratford Hall,
A home for the seniors one and all.
The opening days were made more bright,
By our pajama party we held one night.

Now a new captain headed our crew,
Jean Hinnant was chosen to lead us through.
Barbara Current was elected to be her aide,
While Lila and Ellie secretaries were made.

A treasurer our class lacked until
Ann Brier was picked to fill the bill.
Sergeant-at-arms and scribe we see,
Jane Tuck and Al Wilson respectively.

With Janie Nance as head of the hall
No misfortunes could then befall,
With Miss Royer our sponsor for '48
She helped to make our class first rate.

Our class colors were red and white,
And the rose as our flower was a lovely sight.
Our song by Nicki and Louise
Won "honorable mention," if you please.

In the hockey game on October Day
We all saw our Cricket play,
Representatives from our class were here
To lead with pep each hearty cheer.

On Founders' Day was given a toast
By Marianne Farmer (we'd like to boast),
"Joan of Lorraine" was the play for fall
And Bobbie and Nutsie entertained all.

Blazer Club took in Cricket and Al,
While Lila was the Hunt Club gal.
The Nativity was a beautiful thing
And Nutsie was an Orient king.

The Christmas Dance was merry with glee,
And one of the court was our own Marie.
The Glee Club caroled in a group
With many seniors in the troop.

The holidays over, exams all done,
The Sweetheart Ball brought in some fun.
The Iris Carnival was a dream
With Barbara crowning our Betty queen.

The Traveller Banquet then began
And toasts were given by Alice and Ann.
Another honor came to our roll
When Ann was named for Quill and Scroll.

Honor Society grew in size,
And added six of our members wise,
Alice, Jean, Cricket, and Marianne,
Ann and Nicki from our little clan.

The spring play was chosen this year
With Barbara as Lady Windermere.
Spring Vacation came and went;
Then our class tea was a gala event.

Nicki and Cricket held leading parts
In the spring operetta that stole our hearts.
Exhibits were made at the Latin Tea
By a group of seniors numbering three.

May Day then was all awhirl,
In dances was many a senior girl,
Maid of Honor for this May Day
Found Alice Wilson leading the way.

To add to the beauty of this affair
Babs C. for the court was chosen with care.
The juniors gave our class a treat
And served to us good things to eat.

Class Day came at the end of May,
The seniors were lovely in white that day:
The will was read, the prophecy, too,
The future for us was now in view.

Valedictorian was Nicki S.
She led the day with her address,
Salutatorian with honor great,
Alice Wilson had won this fate.

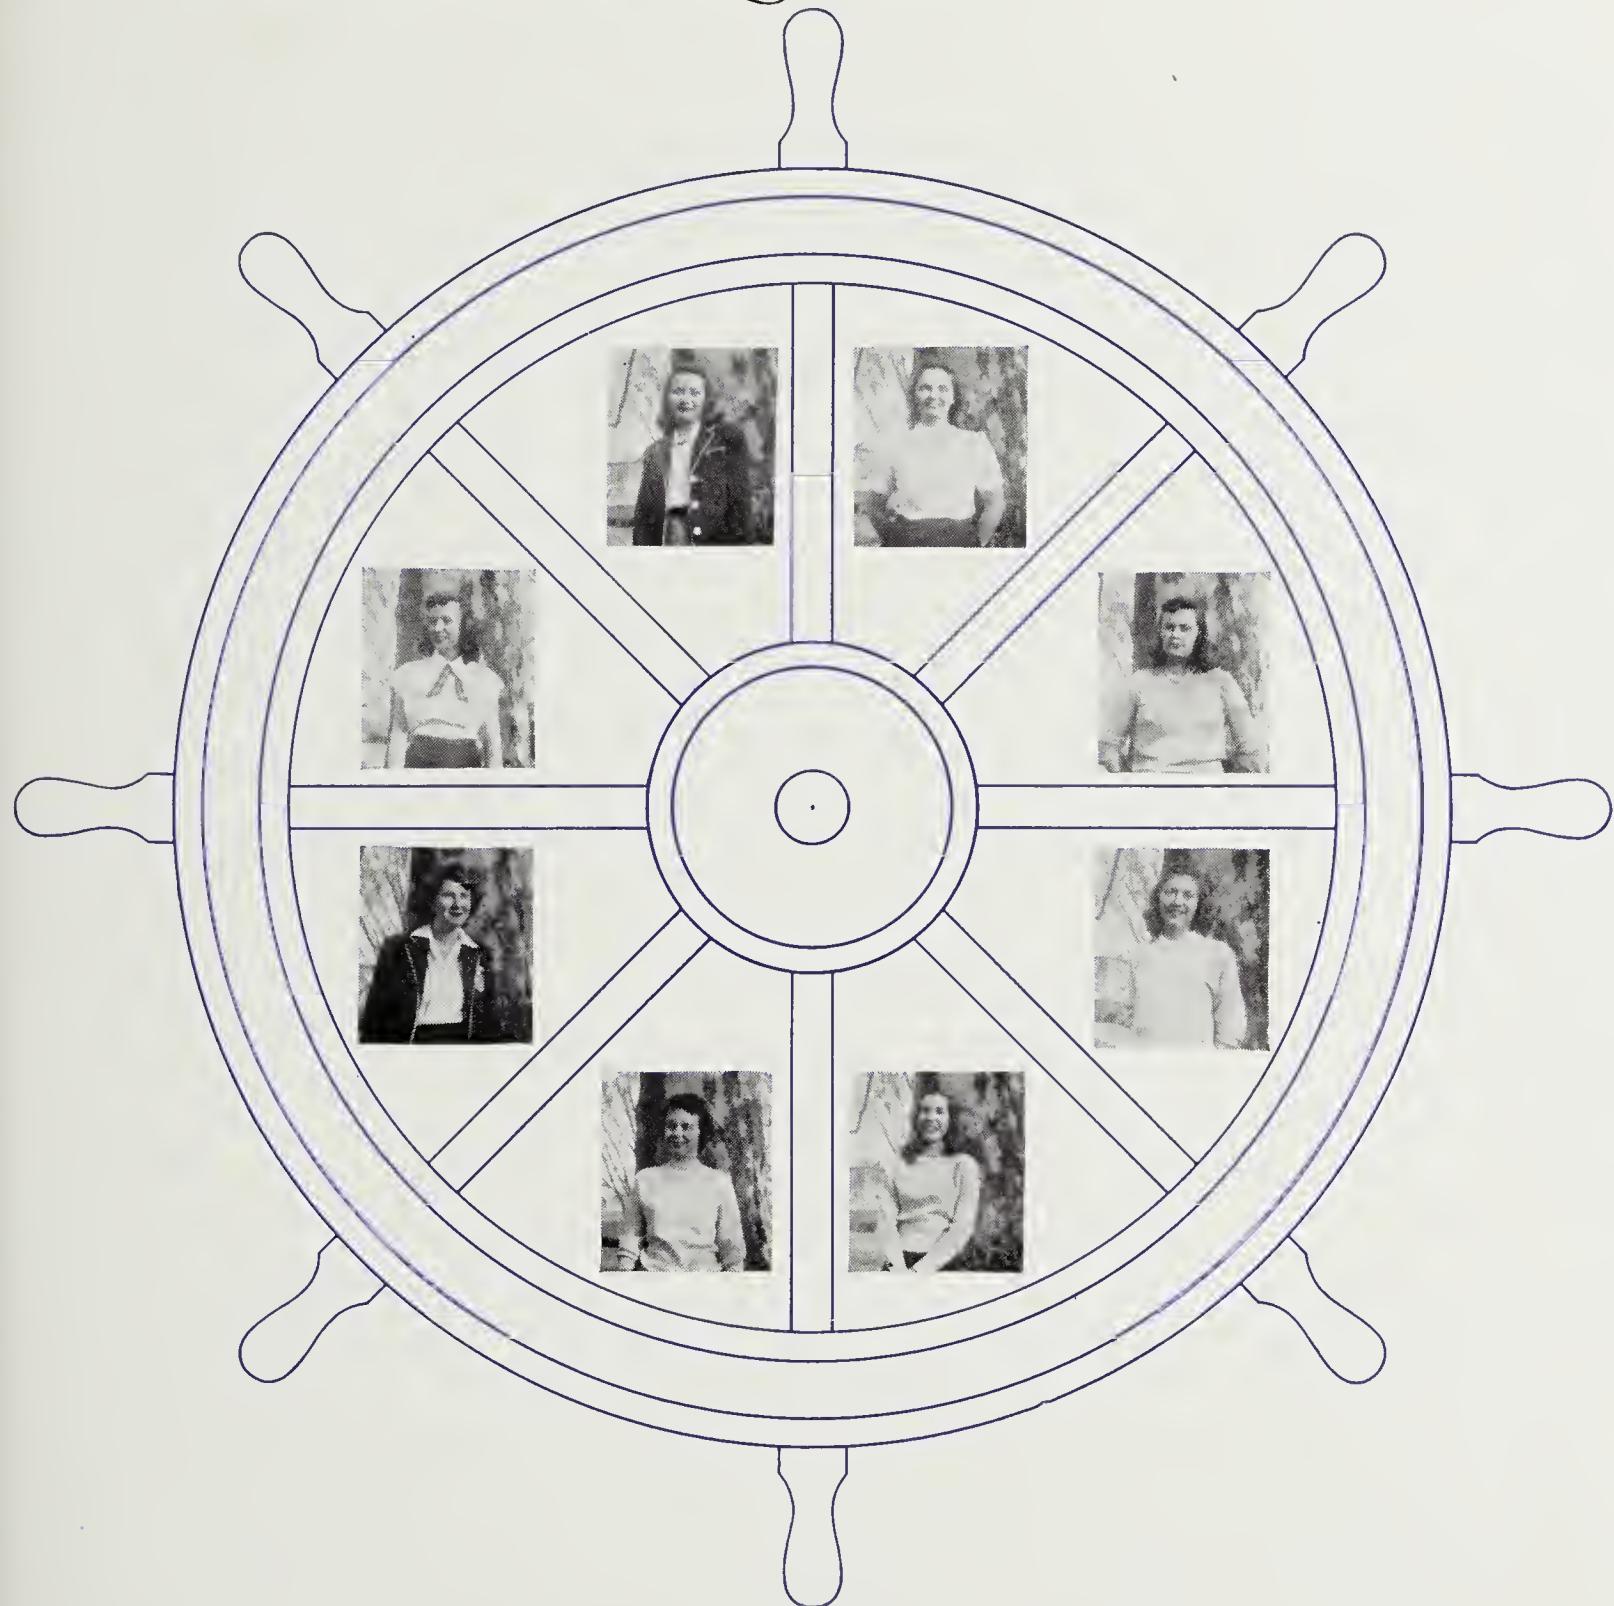

Commencement Day brought smiles and tears
And memories for the coming years.
The caps and gowns of white we wore,
On Stratford we must close the door.

With our diploma now in hand,
Our ship set sail for another land.
Which soon will show in many ways
Our grateful hearts for Stratford Days.

—ALICE WILSON

Senior Class Will

Our ship is waiting for us now,
The time to leave is here.
Before us lies the great unknown;
A future, none too clear.

We leave our friends and classmates
And the Stratford we hold high;
And take with us the mem'ries
Of the time that has gone by.

But before we get aboard the ship
That takes us far away,
These gifts we leave to all of you,
We've known through work and play.

To our Miss Royer, first of all,
Our sponsor through the year,
For all the help she's been to us
We raise a hearty cheer.

To "Rick" is left by Annie B.
Equipment that she smashed,
In working out experiments
That left her quite abashed.

Our Ellie leaves Y. P. S. L.
To Nancy D., you know;
And all the friendships she had there,
We know she'll make them grow.

A Boston accent, broad and deep,
Our "Nutsie" wills to Cotton.
And Al to Chris gives Chapel Hill
So it won't be forgotten.

In Senior Heaven is a seat,
A nook for studying there.
And Lila, who is here so much,
To Cindy wills this chair.

Jane Morton, with paint brush in hand,
To Bootsie leaves this plan—
To take fourth period art class,
And accomplish what she can.

Courtney to Jo Forman, now,
Would like to leave this trait—
Her ability to eat a lot,
And still keep down her weight.

Babs C. gives her alarm clock,
In hopes Pat will be able
To fill, sometime in years to come,
A place at the breakfast table.

Jean Hinnant leaves to Joany Hatch
Her desk lamp, "Good-as-new."
While Cricket leaves Gersh "the city"
And all the fun she knew.

Phyllis leaves to Ginny Chieves
Her pajamas of blue and green.
And a gift of big weekends is left
To Bowlin by Imogene.

Farmer leaves to Margie Watson
Her own Cicero book.
And Louise leaves to Mitzie M.
Her "pics" with that "Gable Look."

To Coley to keep "off campus"
Is hereby given that skill
By Jenny, who knows what it's like,
And hopes Coley never will.

The fresh air in geometry room
Nicki leaves to Frances R.;
While Junc leaves Bootsie her handbook
With rules more liberal by far.

To Faith, a seat in Social Problems
Is left by "Good Queen Bett."
While Marie gives up to Janet
The Dartmouth she'll never forget.

Her figure to Mitzi Johnson
Is left by Sally A.
In view of the fact she'll never
Need think of what she'll weigh.

All unopened books at Stratford
Are left by little Tuck
To Coley with the greatest hope
That they will bring her luck.

Hall President, Janie, leaves this gift
Today to Barbara O.;
To make first-period class on time
And not to be so slow.

All northern men to Pat
Are left by our Mary Ann
And Bobby's monkey-face talent
To be acquired by any who can.

The snowy winters of the North
Bren' leaves to Mary Lou.
And Pepper's wit in Social Problems
She leaves Faith to carry through.

Mary Jane leaves to Gersh
A trait quite automatic,
An illness known though never revealed
As being psychosomatic.

To Miss Fitz from "El" and "Nutsie,"
Who get in funny jams,
A bridge game during study hall
On the night before exams.

More seriously to our Miss Fitz
We give our thanks sincere
For love and understanding ways
And guidance through the year.

Oh dear! There goes the "all aboard."
I think we'll have to run,
To those who will be here again—
Good luck, work hard, have fun!

ANN BRIER
NANCY SMITH

Senior Class Prophecy

With the aid of mystic crystal balls
And a magic witch's brew,
We journey into the vague beyond
To see what is hap'ning to you.

We board our magic carpet
And first travel to New York
Where Bobby, toast of the Broadway stage,
Dines nightly at the Stork.

At the Met, Louise's performance in "Carmen"
Brought on an outstanding ovation.
And Brenda, N. B. C.'s newest script writer,
Has won acclaim throughout the nation.

Head usher, Janie, is up to old tricks
"Ssh" ing patrons at Radio City.
While daily readers of The New York Times
Find Ann's column, "The Brier Patch," witty.

The brilliant professor Nicki Smith
Heads the Latin staff at Columbia U.,
And the Harper Fifth Dimension Theory
Is understood by very few.

Mary Ann Munz is now head buyer
At New York's famous Macy's,

While Al's antics as the store detective
Are rivaling Dick Tracy's.

Our Lila has set the town on its ear
With her latest fashion creation,
While Nutsie is fast rising in the Field of interior decoration.

Another artist, Janie Morton, by name,
Was greeted by critics with praise.
Her technique, it seems, is the latest thing
In surrealism these days.

Before leaving the city we had to drop in
On our old friends, Tuck and Jean;
Jeanie's a surgeon and Tuck is studying
The origin of the soybean.

We journey south to Danville town
For the social season gay,
Where society leader Mary Jane
Gives parties every day.

Both Imogene and "Pepper"
(Other Danville girls, you know),
Have married now, and settled down—
They seem to love it so.

In Star we found our Phyllis
Practicing for Wimbledon.
For her, the tennis championship
Is just as good as won.

Still further south we ran into
Courtney, Betty, and Marie
At a modeling convention
In Columbia, S. C.

In New Orleans we stopped for a snack
With June and her family;
Sal, now a comedy star, was there,
Just back from a trip at sea.

Now you may wonder what has become
Of Jenny and Barbara C.;
They're back at Stratford,
Where Jenny is Dean and Barb's teaching chemistry.

Our journey ends where our class began,
Each must go her separate way.
Before we go, we'll make just one wish—
May we meet again one day!

Sports Aboard . . .

Life aboard the Good Ship Stratford has not been all work and no play. Athletics have been as much a part of every crew member's year as have been the tests and term papers which we have spent so many hours slaving over.

The year began with the clash of hockey sticks and everyone eagerly looking forward to the Averett game which came at the end of the season. The snow and the rain forced the crew to leave the deck, but sports still remained an important part of our life, with ping pong and shuffleboard tournaments yet to be played.

The spirit of our crew lies not in winning or losing the game, but in how well the game is played. The success of these sports events depends on the effort and participation of every member of the crew—with all hands on deck.

Port Authority . . .

For every cruise taken by the Good Ship Stratford there have been special persons and organizations who have financed the voyage. In just the same way this, the log of the ship has been financed.

I ~~has taken many long hours to gather the material for these pages, but it has taken just as many to gather the necessary funds. Within this log we wish to thank those who have so graciously contributed to the support of this particular cruise.~~

SYMBOL OF INTEGRITY IN TEXTILES . . .

Those five little words mean something . . .

They mean years of textile research, the best raw materials available, painstaking manufacture, rigid quality control.

They mean unfailing delivery of honest value . . . style, comfort, and serviceability.

They mean it's a product of Dan River Mills, Incorporated . . . the largest single textile manufacturing unit in the world . . . outstanding in the textile industry for new ideas, new processes, new developments.

New Activities Building

The voyages of the Good Ship Stratford have included many ports of call but there is always the home port at the end of the journey. Our Stratford of the future is headed toward the same home port, but for her long voyages she needs new decks and new keel. The above drawing is a proposed plan for an activities building.

*“To all at length an end !
All sailors to some unseen harbour float.
Farewell, mysterious, happy twilight boat,
Farewell, my friend !”*

The Vanishing Boat
